QUALITY / ASSURANCE

At Advancelab we believe that quality control is essential to realising a successful design that satisfy both the client and end user.

Our design approach is to make sure that everything is questioned and therefore quality checked, indeed it would fair to say that our Quality policy is built-in with the design process itself.

We review all on-going and completed projects, making sure that everything is properly documented as it goes thru all the stages until the full realization of the project.

We pride ourselves in handing over projects of quality and excellence.
